an Old Soldier.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Kenton. O., Aug. 23.—W. F. McMullen, an old soldier, received to-day from Benjamin Whistier of St. Joseph. Mo., a fine gold watch as a reward for saving the life of the latter during the Civil War.

While the two men were on picket duty near Ste. Genevieve. Mo., in 1862, McMullen saved Whistier from Confederate charpshooters by a most heroic act and at the risk of his own life. Whistier said: "McMullen, I shall reward you some time for what you have done."

After that the two men became separated, and the hero never heard anything of Whistier again until the present came to-day, accompanied by a letter touchingly recalling the incident.

With Rubber Band to Fasten His Cork, Republic Newsboy Astonishes Spectators by His Quick Work.

Newsboys who sell The Republic are still talking about the rare treat which was given them when their favorite paper took them to the Crescent Roller Skating Rink, at No. 229 Olive street, Monday night. Some of them continued to go through the motions of skating while selling their papers yesterday.

They are loud in their praises of B. F. Manning, proprietor of the rink, and they wish him good lick in his effort to make popular an amusement resort which has the capacity of fornishing hell-bearing, unbreakable shates for 169 patrons, and at which no intoxicating drinks are sold.

To many of the boys the night at the rink was an education. Novices who could not stand on the clusive rollers at the beginning of the evening's entertainment were skillful enough to do fancy stunts before the big hall was cleared.

The exhibitions of fancy skating given by Charles V. Hurck, an attache of the rink, were hugely enjoyed by the "newsies."

An amusing discovery was made after the spoon race, when it was found that the winner of the event had used a rubber hand to fasten the cork to his spoon. As he had already received the prize money, no official protest was made.

St. Joseph-Maryville Line. REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

St. Joseph. Gross Earnings Reported Since June 30 Are Much in Excess of Last Year-Predictions for Fall and Winter.

Official reports of the gross earnings of the railroads since June 20, the close of the fiscal year, are so flattering that they would appear incredible were they not absolutely trustworthy. Statements rendered up to this time show a remarkable increase over the traffic of the corresponding period of last year. The Southern and Western roads are doing relatively as large a business as the Eastern or Northern roads.

Predictions are made by executive offias large a business as the Eastern or Northern roads.

Fredictions are made by executive efficients that the Southern and Western roads will be compelled to refuse freight tenders in the late autumn and during the winter. Traffic on several of these lines is now taking the full capacity, and the movement has only begun. New locosmotives and freight cars have been ordered, but even with this additional equipment there will be a strain.

In St. Louis at present the terminal properties are hauling more freight cars in transfer than at this time a year ago, the daily average being 1.60 cars more than last year. Between 7.500 and 3.600 freight cars are now transferred daily by the terminal properties. The transfers from one road to another of cars which are not received by the terminal properties are estimated to be more than 2.600 a day. No estimates are made upon the receipt or delivery of cars direct from the roads to industrial concerns, or vice versa.

The immense traffic on Southern and receipt or delivery of ears direct from the roads to industrial concerns, or vice versa.

The immense traffic on Southern and Western roads just prior to the opening of the busy season is referred to as an indication of what the subsequent demands will be. Officers of the big boads say that there will be an insufficiency of cars and locomotives, notwithstanding the enlargment of equipment. These assertions are based upon the large crops and the commercial and industrial activity.

As to the passenger traffic, good showings are made. The Missouri, Ransas and Texas Railroad, operating altogether in the South, is surpassing its World's Fair record. The increase in patronage is due mostly to local travel. The Wabash Railroad shows a better passenger business than in 1964, which was its best year, exclusive of last year, and then the World's Fair was a special attraction.

Assurances of enormous traffic could hardly be better, and the roads are preparing to meet unusual requirements. If the reports of gross earnings since June is are suggestive, predictions regarding a shortage of cars and locomotives may be verified.
